Overview

Quadra have been providing AV-ready furniture to the AV industry for over 30 years. Specially designed, manufactured and installed our wide range of furniture solutions have become the go-to choice for many integrators and clients across the UK.

Microsoft's introduction of Front Row and Signature Rooms for Teams has changed the way people meet and collaborate over video. To support the drive towards forward facing Teams collaboration where remote and in-person attendees face each other we have designed a range of tailored solutions to create spaces that enhance the meeting experience.

These complement our existing Teams solutions to provide a range of layout options and sizes to satisfy most organisations requirements. If you require something more bespoke our in-house designers can accommodate any requirement, design and then manufacture something specific to your needs.

Installation ready

As you would expect given our vast experience of designing and manufacturing furniture specifically for the AV industry, all our solutions provide the flexibility integrators need to specify their own AV hardware.

We understand the installation and commissioning processes and have worked in close partnership with key integration partners across the industry for many years to help streamline their installation and integration processes. With embedded cable routing, ventilation and produced in a wide range of finishes our Microsoft Teams and Signature range of furniture enhances the user experience of your AV solution and make installation and ongoing maintenance easy.

Designed to enhance the user experience, built for practicality, and constructed to last, you and your clients will be delighted you chose Quadra furniture to be part of your project.

All environments combine the latest design with enhanced safety standards and are manufactured in the UK using only the highest quality materials ensuring years of use.

The range of core solutions can be enhanced with acoustic packs to improve the sound dynamics of each space too.

Alliance Collaboration Range

The Alliance Collaboration table offers flexibility for the ever-changing meeting space.

If you do not have a screen on your office / meeting room wall or often rearranging meeting rooms within the business, to save the cost of taking the room out of action for a week while a builder chases cables into the wall and floor then re-decorates and re-carpets the room. Following that you have the AV to install which includes running cables and fitting the screen and bracket, it all takes time and money! Once this work is done the customer uses an off the shelf table which needs a cable port cut into the top. (Some tables will not allow this due to the frame underneath). You could save your customer time and money by supplying the Quadra Alliance table which is all self-contained and takes less than a day to install with all the technology. (subject to AV installers being able to install kit the same day)

These come with a rear shield to stop people playing with cables in the back of the screen, or if sat in front of windows they look neat and tidy. We have as standard 3, 5, 7, 9 & 11 seat configurations but as we manufacture, we can tailor to suit your needs.

If you are interested in the Alliance table, please look at Book 8 in the Quadra portfolio or speak to a sales advisor.
